

Little Lemon Restaurant

Little Lemon restaurant customers are having a torrid time when it comes to reserving a table online. There is need for an improvement of the website so that users can book online by choosing a date and time picker. Furthermore, customers should be able to enter number of diners per reservation as well as entering their first and last name and contact information.